

FSI ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEETING

January 23, 1985

Agenda for Discussion

1. FSI Relocation. At the last meeting FSI reported on steps being taken to select and obtain new facilities in a campus environment. Much progress has been made on this project including the selection of a suitable site. We would like to share with you our expectations for the new site and look forward to hearing your thoughts or suggestions.
2. Peace Institute: During its closing days, the last Congress passed legislation creating a United States Institute of Peace. The Institute is established as an independent government agency to study and promote peaceful relations abroad and conflict management, to develop new comprehensive peace education and training programs, and to strengthen private institutions engaged in the same pursuit. It is set up as a non-profit corporation with a Board of Directors, four members of which are the Secretaries of State and Defense, the Director of ACDA, and the President of the National Defense University.

The legislation authorizes the Institute to receive classified information and to disseminate it to other government officials and the public. It may enter into formal and informal relationships with other public and private institutions.

3. Language/Area Studies: In March of 1984, FSI appointed a Task Force to examine current programs for the integrated teaching of language and area studies. The Task Force conducted a thorough review of the integration programs, including discussion with representatives of other concerned agencies, and made a series of recommendations to the Director and Deans of the two schools. The recommendations were designed to meet student and teacher needs and to strengthen the programs. A report on the work of the Task Force and its recommendations will be presented at the Advisory Board meeting.

Among the recommendations was the initiation of a pilot project on Mexico to develop new methods and techniques for the more effective teaching of integrated language and area studies. To this end, a joint SAS/SLS team has developed a set of special lessons for the final four weeks of training for Mexico-bound Spanish students. Each lesson focuses on a significant issue, and all classroom activities are in Spanish. A full-scale field test is planned for early 1985. We expect to begin work on a similar lessons for the Caribbean countries in the Spring of 1985.
